LECTURER IN PURE MATHEMATICS (2 positions)
SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS AND STATISTICS
REFERENCE NO. 2964/0910

- Engage in research and scholarly activities
- Become an active member of the school
- Up to $115k p.a. packaged salary

The University of Sydney is Australia's first university with an outstanding global reputation for academic and research excellence, and employs over 6,800 permanent staff supporting over 46,000 students.

The School of Mathematics and Statistics is one of the largest in Australia with research strengths in many areas of mathematics and statistics. The School attracts a strong body of excellent students as well as Australian Research Council (ARC) grants, fellowships, and other competitive external funding.

We welcome applications from individuals working in any area of pure mathematics for two lecturer positions. We particularly encourage applications from people working in the areas of analytic number theory, topology or geometry.

You will have the opportunity to teach pure mathematics at all levels (including honours) and supervise honours and postgraduate students. You will also carry out research and scholarly activities in pure mathematics as well as play an active role in the administration of the School.

Key requirements for this position include: a PhD (or equivalent qualification) in a relevant research area; demonstrated evidence of research ability and potential in pure mathematics; evidence of ability, versatility and commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching; excellent written and verbal communication skills; and the ability to work cooperatively with others.

Further information concerning the School's research activities and teaching program can be found on the School's websites:

http://www.maths.usyd.edu.au/u/UG/ (Undergraduate program)
http://www.maths.usyd.edu.au/u/PG/ (Postgraduate program)

The position is full-time continuing (tenure track), subject to the completion of a satisfactory probation period for new appointees. Membership of a University approved superannuation scheme is a condition of employment for new appointees.

Remuneration package: $97-$115k p.a. (which includes a base salary, leave loading and up to 17% employer’s contribution to superannuation).

Some assistance towards travelling cost and visa sponsorship may be available for the successful appointees if required and level of appointment will be commensurate with experience and qualifications.

All applications must be submitted via The University of Sydney careers website. Visit sydney.edu.au/positions and search by the reference number for more information and to apply.

CLOSING DATE: 5 December, 2010 (11:30pm Sydney time)

The University is an Equal Opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity and social inclusion. Applications from equity target groups and women are encouraged.

The University reserves the right not to proceed with any appointment.
