UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY

SCHOOL OF MATHEMATICS AND STATISTICS

Statistics Seminar

Monday 24th November, 2008.(Note unusual time) 12.00pm, Carslaw 173

Maxiset approach in non parametric statistics

Florent Autin
Centre de Mathématiques et Informatique
L'Université d'Aix Marseille 1

Abstract

The goal of this talk is to present the maxiset point of view that appears as an alternative to the minimax and the practical approaches when we want to perform a comparison between estimation procedures in a non parametric setting. Many recent results and a discussion on the advantages of this new approach will be presented.

Enquiries about the Statistics Seminar should be directed to
John Robinson(`johnr@maths.usyd.edu.au`)