Big Break

Authors: Gareth White & Sean Gardiner

Dou ball up the sheet in frustration and throw it at the bin in the corner. Score! You quickly turn towards the shopkeeper, only to find them preoccupied, leaving you in slight disappointment.

The creature from earlier seems to have left so you call out to the shopkeeper, hoping to somehow rectify the situation. Before you are able to speak, however, the owner holds up a small piece of paper which you instantly recognise.

“Don’t worry, the voucher’s here. It looks like that thing’s playful but nice at heart after all.”

You sigh in relief, and the owner hands you a bicycle in exchange for the voucher. You jump in joy, ecstatic at the thought of fast transportation. At least, ground transportation.

You look into the basket of the bicycle, only to find that it’s already filled. You pick up what looks like a stuffed bear with a crescent on its head, but to your surprise the bear starts moving and escapes your grip, waddling away. “Strange,” you think, but you pay no heed as you turn your attention back to the basket, only to find a message even stranger...
